

LEPRECHAUN LOOKOUT CAN YOU FIND FINNEGAN?

Solve the clues below to not only figure out what 10 parks Finnegan is hiding in, but his exact location! Attached you will also find a list of 10 Township Parks as a reference guide. Remember you must write down all ten words to receive your pot of gold! Good Luck and have fun!!!!

1. This park has the same name as well-known Irish town in Massachusetts. There is even a town with the name in England.

Depending on your entrance you may first shoot a hoop or you may take a flight on the plane. The main attraction is that slide. Grab your group and hit all the loops of the tallest slide this lad has ever seen. Don't get mad but that's not where you'll find this green, lean machine. Where I can be seen is closer to the ground. You might want to watch your head as I recommend you go under, be swift as you lift your chin upwards.

2. If you travel down Lloyd Road there's a park I found that begins with the same letter as mine.

To embark on this find you must follow the path straight to the park. Pass the swings and take a ride on the slippery slide. I know you are doing your best so you might want to count to nine and take a rest. Look for me here and look for me there, I am no longer sitting behind the bench. Instead, this Irish mensch left his mark behind some old bark.

3. Have you heard of Myrtle? Has two friends that meet in the middle. One's name is Archie the other's name is Maxwell. All three of these friends like to say they are from Cliffwood.

I'll try not to be tricky, but this may get sticky. There's one to my left and one to my right. There's no wall that divides it all, but rather a path that might lead us to reunite. Where can I be found? Maybe I'm playing ball, but I'm not all that tall. I'm not on the mound, but more or less in the background. When the fans come to cheer that is all the noise I'm going to hear.

4. They call this a field. It's located in a beach, but it doesn't look like a beach. That's a riddle all in itself.

This bat is so big, I could stand and do a nice little jig. Now it's time to run, run as fast you can, see if you can catch the wee little leprechaun man. But which direction will you run? Where I sit there's lots of pitches. Some are caught and some need stitches.

5. There is a theme park that has a similar name to mine. You need to remove the book to get this hook.

To navigate this land, let's start with the sand. Start at home plate and run to first base. Now run straight to back to home base. I like to play tricks, so I believe you are on the wrong side of this land. It's time to get away from the sand and go climb on that contraption of a design. I am always up for a good time so let's take a ride on the slide. Where can you find me?

6. Across from this park is a body of water. Now don't start a riot, but back in the day they say there were pirates who took pleasure in burying their treasure.

Look at those sails!!! I wonder if this ship could help me see whales? Ohhhh, look there goes a bee, that bee led me and my two feet over closer to the sea. St. Patrick's Day is almost here, shamrocks are in full bloom, you might find me in this park by the bathroom.

7. There's a water tower here, if I climb on top I can overlook the bay.

As I frolic I notice that there's lots of green to be seen. This path is sort of fun to follow, now if you skip on all five to your right you may end up closer to where I am. Grab a friend let's see how fast you can slide. Look out it's double trouble! After your ride, I think it's time to climb, I'm not on the sides, but be careful not to mess my design.

8. This field is named after a first responder.

After grabbing a hotdog from Richie's, I ran to collect clovers on the field. I collected so many it's hard to keep my composure. Boy, I am tired and could use a rest. It's time to fill my desire for a nice sweet treat or possibly something salty to eat.

9. This park has recently been renamed. To crack this code, you really must know the roads. If you are a townie you should know that there's a road named County. Here's some mercy as I know it's off of Jersey.

It's time to fly high and swing because it's spring. Behind a big tree you may find what you seek or maybe there's something to be seen by the creek.

10. In the winter this park is filled with laughter as children can be found all around. There is no ivy, but I do have a hill

If there was a cow, I think he'd say "Wow" as I play with all this hay. I can't imagine the events for this fence. If there was snow the kids would overflow. I'm no fool this place is pretty cool. There's lots of fun, not coming down, but going up. Just look around and I can be found.
